Excerpt: . . . 7 For the most part, the militarys answer to encroachment chal-lenges has been to work around the immediate problems while at-tempting to minimize the impact on the quality and quantity of training but the cumulative impact of this stop gap approach is not being addressed. The previous administration studied these issues but made no real proposals for long term solutions. These problems are affecting the ability of our forces to fight and this administra-tion needs to tackle this problem before it gets out of control. We will be reporting what is said at this hearing to the President and the administration to make sure they are aware of all the con-cerns of the people who are in the military who are leading our fighting forces. In 1999 at the Citadel, President Bush said, The military must improve the quality of training. Shortfalls on...
