Excerpt: . . . 11 ernments security clearance process, and Im sure that government contractors, whose applications for clearances were cut off three weeks ago, will agree. Todays hearing is on the progress made by the Office of Personnel Management (OMP), the Defense Security Services (DSS), and the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in attacking the backlog of security clearance applications since we started our oversight. In addition, we will also discuss the unilateral decision by DSS to stop accepting security clearance applications from contractors on April 28, 2006. I strongly believe this particular action illustrates the governments lack of stra-tegic vision to identify problems today that will create bottlenecks in Federal programs in the future. Certainly I am pleased that DSS submitted its reprogramming request to Con-gress to transfer nearly 91 million to fund contractor applications for the...
